Dr. Cook was tendered a banquet by the Arctic Club of America at the Walderf-Asteria Hotel, in New York, ferred to all the great explorers who attempted to reach the North Pole, and told what it required to reach the goal. except when he included him in the Inproduce ranks of the great explorers, but he sarcastically referred to Peary by saying he did not think it necessary that a geographical society or any certain TENDEREL explorer before he attempted to find the Commander Peary, in a dash through his native State of Maine, was cheered by thousands and was the recipient of many honors yesterday. At all the larger cities he was made to stop and exercises were held, celebrating his discovery of the North Pole. Gen. Hubbard, president of the Peary Arctic Club, was made custodian of some important papers, which are said to have a bearing to disproving Dr. Cook's claim of discovery. Commander Peary expects to discredit Dr. Cook in a few days, it is alleged by members of the Peary Arctic Club.

While the news is by no means complete, fuller reports from the stormswept districts on the gulf coast indicate that 100 lives were lost. The work of restoring the railroad tracks and 1 bridges and telegraph wires is being pushed vigorously, but the destruction was so extensive that it will be some time before conditions are normal.

In keeping with the dignity of the highest office in Minnesota and to the ecompaniment of tolling bells, the body of former Gov. John A. Johnson was escorted from the rotunda of the State Capi I at St. Paul yesterday with military pomp to St. Peter, Minn., where it was laid in the family lot in Green Hills cemetery.

DANISH INSPECTOR BELIEVES DR. COOK.

Copenhagen, Sept. 23 .- (Special Cable.)-Daugaard Jensen, the Danish Inspector of North the same ship with Dr. Cook, says that he first met Dr. Cook at Upernavik in the middle of June, During two months of . close examination Dr. Cook gave details of the North Pole trip, which Jensen says fully satisfied him. Jensen declares that he has become well acquainted with Arctic explorations during his ten years' stay in Greenland. During the middle of August Jensen met, at Egedesminde, Knud Rasmussen, who had returned direct from Cape York, where Rasmussen told Jensen the same tribe. These told Rasmussen about Cook's trip, their story being in close agreeknows that Eskimos, time after time, tell a story in the same manner, one repeating the ex-

Therefore he felt himself fully convinced that the statement of Cook's two Eskimos had been correctly repeated and understood by Rasmussen. Thereupon Jensen made his report to the Danish Government that Dr. Cook had reached the pole.

THOSE AT THE MEETING.

Cincinnati, Sept. 23.—(Special.)—W.

P. Renaker, president of the recently organized Buricy Growers' District Union No. I, affiliated with the American Society of Equity, resigned to-night at a most inharmonious conference of leading members of the union, held in the Palace Hotel, and later announced that in view of the compromise effected in Louisville a few days ago bet tyeen Clarence E. LeBus, of the Burley Tobacco Society, and officials of the National and Kentucky State organizations of Equity tobacco growers, the Equity pool scheme was now out of the race for the 1909 crop of Burley
